VOLUME XXI—NO 52 CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1920 TWO CENTS

WILL FIGHT AGAINST BEING BROUGHT BACK TO THIS COUNTY

Alleged Bank Robber Will Not Return to This State Voluntarily

HOLD HEARING NEXT WEDNESDAY

Washington county authorities will not be able to secure the return of David Davis, now being held under bond of $10 000 at Detroit, and wanted here in connection with the Finleyville bank robbery, without a fight.

It was announced a few days ago that Davis would return to Pennsylvania without making any fight but County Detective Bert M. Laird who went to Detroit the first of the week to secure the prisoner, reports that there will be a contest before it is possible to secure the return of the man wanted here or robbery.

After Davis had refused to return to Pennsylvania under the requisition papers issued by Governor William C. Sproul, Detective Laird went to Lansing, Mich., to get the requisition honored by the Governor. He found that before the Governor will honor the requisition for removal of a prisoner to another state a hearing must be held

Consequently it will be necessary for Detective Laird to return to Lansing next Wednesday, and take with him witnesses in preparation for making a fight for the return of the prisoner. Davis is allowed to be represented and will have witnesses at this hearing. Allegheny county as well as Washington county wants Davis, and that county will join with Washington and will be represented by the assistant prosecuting attorney at Detroit, Mich., in an effort to secure the return of Davis.

It is understood that Allegheny county has the sworn affidavit of five witnesses as to the identity of Davis and his being the driver of the car at the time of the robbery of the bank at Hays borough, a short time after the Finleyville holdup. This county also has affidavits of identity as to Davis being one of the gang that did the Finleyville job.

It has been proven that Davis had in his possession the securities stolen from the Finleyville bank and that an attempt was made to sell them in Detroit. Davis, however, makes a denial of any knowledge of the robbery and claims he secured the securities from another person in toledo. It is believed that Davis is a member of an organized gang of bank robbers.

WANT PAROLE FOR YOUTHFUL LAWBREAKERS

Efforts are being made to secure paroles for three youths of Monongahela who successfully staged thirteen robberies in that town before they were finally apprehended. According to the story told by the boys they would plan a robbery one night and execute it on the next. Business houses as well as private homes were entered and they always secured some loot

WILL CONTINUE GAME IN SPITE OF LAW

Donora officials are making a determined effort to rid that town of certain gambling features, and just now are engaged in making an investigation as to who owns a certain lease on property in which a gambling house is alleged to have been run.

This place was raided early Monday morning by the Donora police and twenty-four players arrested, among them one John Christ, who seems to have acquired quite a reputation in that town It is alleged that John is quite a gambler and it is known that he has been before the county court on this charge, the last time being convicted, but being paroled on certain representations of the parole officer.

The hearing which was to have been held by Burgess Cox on Tuesday evening, because of certain investigations now under way, that the officials may learn the name of the lessee of the place. It is asserted by the police there is a deliberate attempt to save Christ and make some other man the "goat." It is stated by friends of some of the leaders that they have no intention of stopping gambling in Donora, but if they are forced out of that borough they will go to Charleroi or Monongahela, where there is better protection afforded."

TO SEEK HALF OF AUTO LICENSE TAX

At the next meeting of the State Legislature, which convenes next January, a vigorous fight is expected to be made by cities and other municipalities which desire half of the automobile license fees paid at the present time to the state. It has been suggested that municipalities are entitled to 50 percent share of the tax because machines owned by their citizens are on city streets more than on county or state highways. The money could be by law devoted to maintenance of roadways and streets in cities and towns, it is declared. Should such a measure become a law Charleroi would benefit to the extent of several thousands of dollars each year.

NEW RATES TO BE EFFECTIVE AT ONCE.

Buying up tickets and railroad mileage before the new passenger rates become effectiveon the 26th of August will not avail the purchaser any advantage, according to a telegram from Washington. It is said that return tickets and mileage books bought before that date will not be valid when the new schedules go into effect.

How the Interstate Commerce Commission will handle the problem of tickets purchased before the new fares are made operative for use after their effective date is now being worked out, it is said. Commission officials emphasized, however, that travel for the present prices would not be permitted after the effective date of the new levels.

It is expected that an order will be issued permitting the railroads to refund the amount paid for return coupons or unused mileage and commutation books or that passengers will be allowed to use them on payment of the additional charges authorized. Unless some such method is adopted it was pointed out that tickets could be purchased for future use in large quantities which would result in postponing the effective date of the higher rate.

DONORA PLANS FOR LOCAL EXCURSIONS

Since the completion of the repairs to the Donora river bridge and the re-opening of the structure to general traffic the merchants of Donora contemplate some advertising excursions into the country across the river into Westmoreland county. When the road up Webster hollow is improved, work on which is now under way, it will give the people in that country district a splendid highway to reach the steel town, and Donora merchants are preparing to take advantage of the situation. The campaign will be under direction of the Donora Community Service, the commercial organization which is so active in the affairs of the big steel town.

CHALFANT FAMILY WILL REUNE AT OAKLAND PARK

Committees are at work planning the program for the biennial reunion of the Chalfant family to be held Saturday, August 14, at Oakland park, near Charleroi. Heading the organization are Walter Chalfant of Speers, president and Miss Pearl G. Frye of Charleroi, secretary.

Representatives of the family from many parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and other states are expected to attend the affair. From responses one of the best attended affairs of the kind ever held is anticipated. The day's program will consist of the usual picnic events, with a few added features of special interest.

DONORA BRIDGE BEING USED AS SPEEDWAY

If it isn't onething it is something else. A few weeks ago Donora was "making Rome howl" because the river bridge at that place was closed for repairs. The structure was opened last Saturday to general travel, and now comes the complaint that the bridge is being used as a speedway. This speeding is said to be the town's latest menace and unless it is controlled there is apt to be a serious accident, this complaint being made by John O. Watson, inspector on the bridge, who says that automobile owners so long hedged in have seemingly become speed crazy.

County regulations make it a violation of the law to drive over the bridge at a greater speed than twelve miles an hour, and a number of arrests may be made unless the practice is stopped. It is contended that speeding is not only dangerous to other drivers on the bridge, but likewise to pedestrians on the sidewalk.

TEAM TRACK MINE OPERATOR TO ORGANIZE

It was announced from Connellsville on Wednesday that representatives of 82 wagon mine operators in Fayette county and 67 operators in Somerset county will meet in Pittsburg this week to organize. The team track or wagon mine owners propose to bring suit against the railroads, it is alleged, for cutting off their car supply. It is said there are several hundred of these whose business has been endangered by certain drastic orders on the part of the railroad companies.

PRIORITY ORDERS HAVE BUT LITTLE EFFECT ON COAL TRADE

Prices Still High with Plenty of Loads Available For Market

CAR SUPPLY IS FAIRLY GOOD

Neither the Great Lakes or New England I. C. C. orders have as yet caused any great inconvenience in the coal trade of the Monongahela valley, nor have they had any appreciable effect upon prices. Tidewater coal maintains quotations varying from $12.50 to $13, but the market as regards what are known as line shipments has softened somewhat, $11 being the prevailing price both for steam and by-product coals.

The full effect o the Great Lakes order is now being felt, such as it is, but this New England order has as yet to be put into force. The indications are that neither will cut any great figure because of the comparatively small tonnage apportioned to this producing region.

In complying with the New England order it would seem that operators are given the privilege of at any time during the week of consigning their percentage to tidewater for trans-coastwise shipment In this particular region the day for New England shipments is being delayed as long as possible and because most operators have selected to forward their tonnage percentage during the latter part of the week the actual effect of the order is not yet apparent. As a matter of fact the New England market appears listless, there being no inquiries from consumers from that territory and as far as is known few shippers have opened negotiations for a consignee of the enforced shipment.

The extent to which the Great Lakes order affects this region is shown by the car supply record of the Monongahela railway, which must forward most of the tonnage apportioned this region to the lakes. The Monongahela is requiring that 65 cars per day be sent to the Great Lakes. With a weekly forced shipment of 390 cars, the Monongahela last week had available 3,294 coal cars, or a matter of 2,900 cars which could be shipped to any destination, conforming of course to priority regulations and existing embargoes.

The week's good car supply, especially as regards the Monongahela, with the resultant increase in shipment, is assumed to have brought about the change for the better in the car supply situation. It also brought to the front the fact that the labor supply is none too adequate at present should there at any time in the near future be something approaching normal car placement. At several plants it was reported all cars placed for one day's loading could not be moved the same day.

FALLS FROM PORCH AND IS INJURED

Joe Mastrangelo, while at work on a house at Crest avenue and Seventh street on Wednesday fell from the roof of the porch and was considerably bruised. He was taken to the local hospital for treatment

Miss Julia and Anna Yaros left Thursday for a ten-days' vacation which they will spend in Cleveland and Akron, Ohio

MANY STEAMERS IN THE TOWING TRADE

Approximately about forty-five steamboats are engaged in the coal towing trade on the Monongahela river with a possibility that this number will be considerably increased during the next few years. Transportation of coal by water, particularly in the Monongahela valley has become such a necessity to large industrial interests that many of them have gone extensively into the coal transportation business during the past few years in order to keep their plants in operation. Had it not been for the fact that a fuel supply was available by river to them at practically all seasons many of them would have been compelled to close down because of lack of fuel. As it is now, all these concerns are well able to take care of their coal supply, and always have sufficient on hand to keep their furnaces going. As arranged by one interested an incomplete list of boats operating in the trade is as follows:

Vesta Coal Company—Steamers Aliquippa, B. F. Jones, Jr., Henry A. Laughlin, Vulcan, Vesta, Sailor, Titan, Warren Elsey.

Carnegie Steel Company—Steamers Duquesne, M. D. Wayman, Monitor, Kanawha, Edgar Thomson, W. H. Clingerman, Homestead, H. D. Williams, William Whigham, Clairton

Pittsburg Steel Company—Steamers Alicia and Collier.

Hillman Coal & Coke Company—Steamers A. R. Budd, Hecla, Volcano, Hillman, Sam Barnum, Keystone.

Crucible Fuel Company—Steamers Atha, Crucible and Midland.

Pittsburg Coal Company—Steamers Beacon, J. C. Risher, Jim Brown, Conqueror, Robert Jenkins, Transit, Voyager.

American Steel and Wire Company—Steamers Braddock and Juniata.

National Transportation Company—Steamer Hibernia.

Clyde Coal Company—Steamer Clyde.

LaBelle Steel Company—Steamer Carbon.

The congregation of the Christian church will hold a reception Friday night for Rev. F. C. Lake and family. The members expect to have a good turnout to greet their new minister who has just taken up the work here. A good program will be rendered and refreshments will be served. 52-t2*

BAKER ORDERED TO SELL.

When the Republican Congress convened a year ago the War Department had immense stocks of canned foodstuffs in storage purchased prior to the armistice for the maintenance of the Army. These enormous supplies the War Department proposed at first to dispose of in Europe, according to the statement of Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, who claimed that there was "only a limited market in the United States." The Republican Congress promptly passed a resolution directing the War Department to place these goods on sale in the United States. After months of delay and grudging compliance with the law, the War Department now announces that it will dispose of the remainder of these commodities. Canned corned beef, corned beef hash, roast beef and bacon to the value of $25.000.000 are now being disposed of in various sections of the country within, reasonable hauling distance of the retailers and wholesalers in every community. The prices are below pre-war quotations.

According to Representative William J. Graham, chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department, the surplus food held by the Army in the United States following the armistice was valued at $100.000.000. "The War Department had entered into tentative agreements with the packers," he states, "not to put this food upon the market and were using every method to dispose of it, by feeding it to the soldiers or otherwise, so that it should not be sold to the people. As a result of the resolution passed by the Republican Congress $57.000,000 of this food was sold prior to the recent announcement of the War Department placing $25.000.000 of these goods on sale."

A COLLEGE EDUCATION.

A successful business man remarked the other day, "It doesn't take as long to get over a college education now as it used to do." The remark was intended as a compliment to modern educational methods, as truly it was.

Not so many years ago, people looked upon college education as an end rather than a means. Not until comparatively recent years has there been anything like gereral realization of the fact that more is expected of a college graduate than of others, that the men who obtained a college education has assumed a greater responsibility instead of being given a greater privilege.

The college graduate of today must serve instead of being served. The college graduate is looked upon as being fitted for greater efficiency than one who has not had his advantages of education, and better things are expected of him.

The world today is more harsh in its judgment of the man who wastes his alents than upon the man who has no talents to waste. More is expected of the man with good tools than of the man with poor tools. And after all, education is nothing more than the tool for the work of life.

These thoughts are offered with respectful earnestness to young men and young women who are thinking of entering college this fall.

A FARMERETTE'S SPUD RECORD

A woman in St. Augustine, Fla., is said to have established a new record for women farmers in her state. She raised and marketed one of the best white potato crops grown in that region, getting about 45 barrels to the acre from her 60 acres. She dug her potatoes before the heavy and persistent seasonal rains set in and marketed them at the high prices prevailing then. According to report she made a very good profit.

Miss Mildred Allen—that is the [illegible] potato grower's name—had had no experience with potatoes before this season. Apparently she studied her ground, her crop and her market carefully before she began. It is a good example of what can be accomplished by courage in tackling a new problem and painstaking effort in carrying it through. Other women farmers please take note of Miss Allen's first success. No doubt Miss Allen herself will better her record next time, for she has added the knowledge of experience to her theoretical knowledge, and that is a sure-to-win combination.

ISSUES, NOT MEN

Every now and then some campaign committee announces that the political fighting this year will be along the line of "issues, not men." This is all right as far as it goes, but how far does it go? Just what does it mean?

Is it best to vote for a bad man whose principles, politically speaking, coincide with your own, or for a good man whose views on certain questions are different from your own? Party regularity is a desirable thing, although it is not as strong a shibboleth as it was some years ago. Party platforms generally make good reading—for a time at least—but they are not always carried out. Maybe itis just as well that they are not.

But the old distinction between right and wrong will always hold good, and the difference between good men and bad men will be as great tomorrow or next year as it is today. The voter who casts his ballot for the best man for office will come pretty near doing the right thing. If the man who is elected is the right sort of man he will try to do right, and he will come pretty near doing right, regardless of the platform or the issues during the campaign.

It appears to be decided that France is to get 52 per cent of all the indemnity paid by Germany, England 22 per cent, Italy 10 per cent, Belgium 8, Serbia 5, and 3 per cent will be divided among Rumania, Portugal and Japan. Is this a perfectly equitable division based on the services, losses and sufferings of the countries named? Who can say with certainty? That they are able to arrive at a harmonious agreement of this sort speaks well for the good temper of the victors who are thus to divide the collections.

The worm will turn and so will the consumer. The latter, according to the dry goods market report in the Commmercial and Financial Chronicle, "will no longer pay $75 for asuit containing $5 worth of wool."

At San Francisco Kentucky cast Laura M. Clay, daughter of Cassius M. Clay, and a relative of Henry Clay—the first woman to receive a vote for the Presidential nomination at a convention of either of the parties.

According to Lady Astor, "the great trouble with women is that they seem to think legislation will do everything." The trouble with many men is their expectation that legislation will accomplish little or nothing.

In view of the fact that the World War is of such recent memory, perhaps the most remarkable feature of both the great party conventions was the complete absence of anything suggestive of militarism.

Laughter as a Medicine.

If the people only knew the medicinal power of laughter, of good cheer, of the constant expression of joy and gladness, half the physicians would be out of work. Laughter is undoubtedly one of nature's greatest tonics. It brings the disordered faculties and functions into harmony; it lubricates the mental bearings and prevents the friction which monotonous, exacting business engenders. It is a divine gift bestowed upon us as a life preserver, a health promoter, a joy generator, a success maker.—Orison Swett Marden.

Elm Tree Most Admired.

There is no tree in the United States probably which is more popular than the elm, and there is good reason for this, for it is extremely graceful and beautiful says the American Forestry association of Washington. There are many historic elms, too. It was under an elm, for instance, as every school boy will recall, that Washington took command of the American army at Cambridge. Few trees in the United States have a wider distribution than the elm. One striking form of the elm has a vase-shaped top.

Procrastination.

There are bad habits enough, the Lord knows, but we think the worst of them all is the habit of procrastination. To have a thing to do, and to keep putting it off—we stack up trouble for ourselves every time we do it. When a man gets up in the morning, he should think of what he has to do that day, and then he should pick out the things that are most disagreeable and do them first. It is the best plan in the world. And the result of it is that soon there are no disagreeable things left.

TEMPORARY BUILDING FOR BENTLEYVILLE SCHOOL

Bentleyville is doing its best at the present time to solve the serious school situation which confronts it, as the result of the destruction by fire of the principal school building some weeks ago. It is at once apparent that a building sufficiently large of regular construction could not be built in time to serve the purpose of a school building for the coming term.

As a solution to the problem the directors decided to erect a temporary structure large enough to house most of the grades. Erection has already started on the temporary structure and work is going on day and night. White pine sheeting is being used and plasterboard will be used instead of plaster on account of the saving of time effected thereby, as school is scheduled to start August 30.

The temporary building is being erected on the rear of the lots on Main street where the large Main street building stood before the fire All of the material used in this structure will be available for use next spring when it is planned, construction will be started on an up-to-date brick school building. Carpenters have been scarce in the Pigeon creek valley section, but many workmen of this craft are volunteering their services in order that the schools may not suffer interruption this fall.

K. OF C. PLAN TO HOLD ANNUAL OUTING

The Knights of Columbus councils of Donora, Charleroi and Monessen are planning their annual outing which will be held Wednesday, August 11th at Eldora Park.

The committee in charge is making every arrangement so that members will have a splendid time at this outing A baseball game and other sports as well as dancing, will feature the afternoon, while the dance in the evening will be sure to attract a large attendance of thosewho are unable to attend during the day

EXAMINATION FOR LOCAL POST OFFICE EMPLOYES

Postmaster Smith announces an examination or local post office employes to be held on the 14th of August Applications will be received from males only, and salaries to start with will be $1,400. The postmaster says that efforts are being made to improve the service and those to whom this field of occupation appeals will find a splendid opportunity to secure a good paying position in very pleasant surroundings.

Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Stahlman left Wednesday morning for Atlantic City, where they will spend a midsummer vacation.

Egypt Raised Cotton In 200 B. C.

Cotton has been grown in Egypt since 200 B. C., but it was not until a hundred years ago that Jumel, a French engineer, suggested the introduction of the commercial varieties. In 1822 the famous American sea island cotton was the first sown. Five years later a Brazilian variety was introduced. The two strains were mingled and from them came the famous "Ashmouni" plant and the still finer "Mutafi," which is one of the most productive cottons in the world.

Whisky Called "Water of Life."

The art of distilling liquors is first mentioned by Albukassen, an Arabian physician who lived in the tenth century. Whisky, "a potable spirit distilled from cereal grains," probably originated in Ireland, and its Celtic name was uisgebetha (water of life) afterward contracted to usquebaugh and then to whisky. It was known as usquebaugh in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries both in Ireland and Scotland.

The freedom of the city of London carries with it, nominally, at any rate, the right to keep pigs in the parish of St. James, Piccadilly. But even were any one disposed to avail himself of this liberty, and if the sanitary authorities failed to object, land in that part of London is somewhat too costly for profitable pig-farming.

Pompey's Pillar.

This is the name of a celebrated column on a slight elevation in the southwest section of ancient Alexandria. It is a monolith of red granite upon a pedestal. Its total height is 98 feet 9 inches. The inscription shows it was erected by Publius Eparch of Egypt in honor of the Emperor Diocletian, A. D. 302.

CARPENTIER TO BE SEEN AT THE COYLE

George Carpenter, idol of France, whose notable record in the boxing ring has won him fame and fortune, and whose fascinating personality has made him the idol of two continents, will be the chief attraction at the Coyle theatre in "The Wonder Man," a Robertson-Cole super-special production, for atwo-day showing beginning Monday, August 9 and continuing over Tuesday the 10th.

This picture promises an entertainment unique in the realm of cinema art. Unlike the previous efforts of producers to bring champions of the prize ring before the public, on the silver screen in the role of dare-devil heroes or in the hair-raising serial George Carpenter is given as a vehicle an intriguing romance of American society, with himself in the role of a smart, well dressed man about town.

"The Wonder Man" really gives the public its first opportunity to really know this favorite son of France—in fact it gives the first opportunity for his many admirers to see him The great demand to see Carpenter in the boxing ring was proved beyond a doubt by the crowd that flocked to the studio to see him when a great fight scene for the picture was staged More than 2,000 persons braved the muddy roads of New Jersey to see him in his fighting togs for the first time in America.

Carpenter is supported by a notable cast in "The Wonder Man," including such prominent screen artists as Faire Finney as leading woman, and Florence Billings.

ENGINEER ON NEW BRIDGE OVER MONONGAHELA RIVER SAYS REESE FORMULA R-11 BEST MEDICINE MADE

Harry Pearl, of Rivesville, W. Va., Engineer on New Bridge Says It Has Done Him More Good in a Short Time than All the Medicine He Has Taken in Life Time

Harry Pearl, engineer on the New Bridge over the Monongahela River, is back on the job and working every day, thanks to the Reese Formula R-11.

Mr. Pearl has been suffering for years from stomach trouble, heartburn and indigestion which would not allow him to sleep at nights. There would be an accumulation of gas on his stomach. He was nervous and constipated and at times was unable to attend to his duties. He began taking Reese Formula R-11 on advice of his friends with the following results:

"Many people had told me of the great merit of The Reese Formula R-11, so at last I purchased two bottles from Crane's Drug Store," says Mr. Pearl. "After the first few doses I began to feel better; my appetite returned; I could sleep fine; had no signs of indigestion, my constipation disappeared and, I have been able to work every day. I certainly want to recommend The Reese Formula R-11 for it has done more for me than all the medicines I have taken in my life time."

You too will praise The Reese Formula R-11 if you will only get a bottle. It works wonders in cases of indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness, rheumatism, constipation, backache, kidney, urinary, bladder or female troubles. Stop putting it off.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use Dr. discovery "Pesky Devils Quietus "P. D. Q."

A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and cooties and at the same time destroy their eggs.

Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free, patent spout in every package to get the pesky devils in the hard-to-get-at-places and save the juice.

Special Hospital and Hotel size $2.50 —makes five gallons of P. D. Q.—your druggist has it or can get it for you, or sent prepaid upon receipt of price by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Success of P. D. Q. has caused imitators; genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled.

LAID BY FOR THE WINTER

Housewives of Early New York Dissatisfied With Less Than a Six-Months' Supply.

The eleventh hour, or, rather, six o'clock's rush to the delicatessen store that marks the approach of dinner in these days of frenzied housewifery would have seemed a strange madcap phenomenon to the good housewives of old New York. They would have felt ill provided should they have had less than six months' provisions in the larder.

According to the memory of one small boy of seventy-five years ago the thrifty Dutch folk who lived along the west side of what is now downtown New York laid in stores in October and November to last until April or May. They bought a quarter of beef, a hog or a sheep to furnish the pieces de resistance of the winter's meals. The beef was corned or smoked. The pork and mutton was similarly cured and put away. The smoking was done in public smoke houses, maintained for profit.

A barrel or flour, two or three of apples and potatoes added the vegetable element to the menus. Other supplies to lend variety were laid by in lesser quantities. All sorts of farm products were purchasable in the fall at minimum prices, because at that time many sailing vessels and barges came down the river from upstate laden with stores. As winter and the closing of the river approached the farmers and merchants grew anxious to dispose of their stocks and the townfolk consequently bought at an advantage, which they were not slow to take.—New York Evening Sun.

CREED FOR EVERY AMERICAN

Undeniable "Good Thing" to Which All Citizens Should Subscribe and Pass Along.

Nearly every reader is familiar with the expression, "It's a good thing, pass it along." The other day attention was attracted by a "good thing" which is here passed along. It is a "financial creed" for every man, woman and child suggested by the savings directors of the 12 federal reserve districts. Read it carefully. It is as follows:

I believe in the United States of America.

My opportunity and hope depend upon her future.

I believe that her stability and progress rest upon the industry and thrift of her people.

Therefore, I will work hard and live simply.

I will spend less than I earn.

I will use my earnings with care.

I will save consistently.

I will invest thoughtfully.

To increase the financial strength of my country and myself, I will buy government securities.

I will hold above barter the obligations my country thus incurs.

I will do these things to insure the greatness of America's future.

Fish Nets, the First Lace.

Examine a piece of fine and costly lace. What is it fundamentally?

It is a net. By origin it is a fish net. The first lacemaker was a fisherman, or perhaps his wife.

All of the beautiful laces we know today are developed from that clever invention, the fish net. They hark back, therefore, far into the prehistoric.

The first white men who came to America found no lacemakers on this continent, but they did find the Indians weaving fabrics of cotton, yucca and other fabrics, with elaborate pattern designs. They were particularly skillful at a certain sort of "drawnwork."

The California Indians of today make cotton lace, but the art has been taught to them by white people. The pottery they make for sale is sometimes adorned with this lace.

Which suggests mention of the fact that the early Indians often decorated their pottery with textile patterns by impressing the latter upon the clay while soft.

If you have the grit you can command respect. The world doesn't want any fawning apologies. That may serve a purpose under some "weaksister" circumstances, but never under the greatest need. Some folks wonder why it is that "all the world loves a lover." The fact is a lover must have grit. Women want their heroes to be leaders, daring, irresistible. They want men who do things. They even like to be made do a few things they protest but enjoy just the same. Weaklings do not dare such audacity. They fear they will lose the maiden's smiles. As a matter of fact it's the daring and the assurance that wins. "Faint heart never won fair lady" we are told. Even in lovemaking you must have grit. And what's more the fellow that does not have grit doesn't deserve to win. Why should a woman waste herself on a molly-coddle? Be a man if you would win.—Grit.

Appeal to Snobbishness.

"That umbrella repairer has a flattering approach."

"What is it?"

"First asks the lady of the house if she has any golf clubs to mend."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Answer.

"Why do they try so much hot air pressure on witnesses?"

"I suppose it is because they want to pump them."

They Don't Need Much Sugar

Old fashioned housewives canned by the open kettle method, and required a great deal of sugar to keep the fruit. When sugar was scarce or high they canned very little.

The scarcity of sugar this year is making little difference in canning. The cold pack methot not only makes vegetable canning safe and advantageous, but it permits fruit canning to be done in a very light syrup. With our equipment, fruits may be safely canned without sugar.

We have all sizes Jars, Covers, Good Luck Jar Rings, Wrenches, Wax, Ladles, Funnels, Tops, Sieves and Strainers, Handy Jelly Bag or Strainer with table attachment; wood spoons, enamel, aluminum, tinned Basting Spoons, all sizes; Fruit Jar Racks, used in the wash boiler, Handy Fruit Jar Holders. Everything you will need for canning fruits and vegetables.
